

We're looking for some talent to join our team!

About you

You're an experienced Wealth Manager, Financial Advisor, or IFA (1 year+), with at least some qualifications and/or licenses from an internationally respected financial jurisdiction, and a willingness to work towards acquiring more.

You put your clients first, and you're driven towards building a first class financial practise over time, by taking genuine delight in helping people and building up a great reputation.

Of course you're keen to earn a high income – and rightly so – but you're not all about selling. You understand that providing an excellent service, whilst giving excellent advice, earns more in the long term than simply selling financial products.

You work well as part of a team, and excel when working on your own. You want support and guidance from an experienced management team who know what works and what doesn't work, but you also want the freedom to implement your own creative ideas without being micromanaged.

You love taking all the credit when things are going well for you, and you're also strong enough to take responsibility when things aren't so great and work hard to fix it.

You're smart enough to highlight areas where the whole company can improve, and graceful enough to realise that your colleagues' opinions may sometimes differ from yours.

You're ambitious and want to progress towards senior management roles in future, and you demonstrate your management ability on a daily basis by helping your colleagues where you can, whilst always keeping clients as your main priority.

You're likeable and approachable, get on well with most people, and know how to have fun at work as well as outside of work.

You know that age, gender, religion etc are not particularly relevant to recruitment decisions, and you have a great attitude which fits with our core values – integrity, respect, excellence, knowledge, and innovation.

And finally, you want to be part of a fast-growing, ambitious, intelligent team of financial professionals, focussed on always being the best at what we do.

Is this a good description of you?

If so, we want to talk with you ASAP!

If the ten paragraphs above are an accurate reflection of you, then you're exactly what we're looking for. We're recruiting people like you to join our Wealth Management team in various locations across South East Asia, for established offices and also new locations. Please send your CV along with an email message to operations@imperiumcapital.com and we'll arrange a phone or skype call with one of our directors to talk in more detail with you. We're really looking forward to hearing from you!
